

Edward J. Hellman, M.D.
8450 Northwest Boulevard
Indianapolis, IN 46278
(317) 802-2457

Edward J. Hellman, M.D.

Board Certified

Orthopedic Surgeon

Edward J. Hellman, M.D., received his medical degree from the University of Michigan in 1985, and completed his residency in orthopedics at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit and his fellowship in Adult Reconstructive Orthopaedic Surgery at Indiana University Medical Center. Dr. Hellman has been in practice since 1990 and has limited his practice to hip and knee surgery with an emphasis on joint replacement since 1992.

“I enjoy having the opportunity to make a tremendous impact on the quality of my patients’ lives through joint replacement surgery,” says Dr. Hellman. He especially likes to visit with his patients post-operatively and hear how the surgery has permitted them to once again participate in life’s activities. Dr. Hellman believes very few medical interventions have the impact on the quality of life that joint replacement does.

Dr. Hellman is certified by the American Board of Orthopaedic Surgeons. He is a member of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons, the Indiana Orthopaedic Society, the American Association of Hip and Knee Surgeons and the Mid-American Orthopaedic Association. Dr. Hellman has published numerous articles on hip and knee arthroplasty.

Dr. Hellman is married to Dr. Laura Reuter, a reproductive endocrinologist. They have an active, busy family of two daughters, Elise and Natalie, and a son, Daniel. As a family, they always do a “spring break” ski trip, often to Big Sky, Montana. Dr. Hellman skied competitively in college and has enjoyed teaching his children to ski. During non-ski months, Dr. Hellman spends time working out in a gym, riding his road bike and playing golf.